MINERS GETTING READY FOR A HOT ENCOUNTER

Feehan and Halapy Factions Active for Favorites

CONVENTION POSTPONED

Will Open at Later Date This Year Than Usual--Complexities of Situation

Notices were issued Monday from the offices of the Pittsburg district United Mine Workers for the annual convention of the miners of the district to be held in Pittsburg on March 19. The convention will be held later than usual this year, having been postponed from February 12 Hot times are expected and two factions which are represented by Francis Feehan, president of the district and Michael Halapy, who would like to be president, are getting ready for an encounter which seems inevitable.

Feehan's forces have been professing all along their belief that he is the winner of the district presidency for another term, but some more conservative minds seem clouded with doubt as to his success. Halapy, who is now the editor of the United Mine Workers Journal, and a Socialist of note, is firm in the conviction that he and not Feehan is the rightful heir to the throne. His conviction is backed to some extent it is said by generous fact. At the election last fall when the miners voted on Feehan and Halapy for district president there was considerable sentiment worked up against Feehan, who is winding up his fourth term. Halapy' friends attended to this. A partial review of the situation lent confidence to the minds of the Feehan men. The Halapy men smiled.

The latest statement is that Halapy has the greatest number of votes, but at that will have a tough time acquiring the presidential job. It is rumored throughout the district that the enthusiasts for Halapy in gathering the vote in his favor joyfully sent in the vote of locals by the block, the same as though certain politician. would send in by one block, the registered vote of a town before it was taken. These votes will be subjected most likely to a court of inquiry, and it is stated the final result of the presidency will depend upon their decision. Outside of Feehan the regular slate seems certain to win against the slate put up by the Halapy men.

Monongahela, meanwhile is getting along with what is claimed to be the highest deficiency charge in the valley—31 cents or $3.10 on every $1,000 of insurance. A movement is now on foot there to have a reduction made through certain needed improvements.

Charleroi is now paying 18 cents of a deficiency rate and when an inspection of changes recently made in the supply system is concluded, is entitled to a reduction of three cents more. It is said Monessen secured its reduction by certain changes in the fire department and the water supply.

MAKING SEARCH FOR MISSING YOUNG MAN

Nothing Heard From Lindsay Wakefield Since Last August---Mother Nearly Frantic---Foul Play Feared

Through the instrumentality of Isaac Wakefield, head of the Charleroi Iron Works, search has begun for Lindsay L. Wakefield, a former Charleroi man who has been mising since last August He was formerly employed at the Macbeth-Evans Glass plant as a machinist, and has worked in a garage. His mother, Mrs. Thomas Wakefield, who lives in Preston county W. Va., is nearly frantic with grief having not heard from her son since he left here. Foul play is feared.

When young Wakefield left here about the middle of last August he said he would likely go to Pittsburg and from there possibly to Cleveland or Cincinnati, Ohio. Since then nothing has been heard from him. He is an all-around machinist, but had done some automible garage work. He is 25 years old, about 5 feet 10 inches tall, slender and erect, with square shoulders, always well dressed and neat in appearance. He has light hair, blue eyes, smooth face and is youthful in appearance. Such is the description furnished by Mr. Wakefield here, who is his uncle. When young Wakefield left Charleroi his baggage included a trunk and a tool chest.

A quiet young man of good habits, Wakefield won many friends while here, but none of them have heard from him. He was not given much to writing letters, even to his parents but frequently sent post cards to his mother while away from home and made frequent trips back to see her.

TEN ARRESTED AS A RESULT OF RIOT

Miners Engage in Pitched Battle at Chamouni Mine---Starts From Order to Use Safety Lamps in Certain Rooms

As the result of a number of Polish and Russian miners refusing to abide by the State law and the order of the superintendent to use safety lamps in designated rooms of the Chamouni mine of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company across the river from California, a pitched battle between miners resulted Monday. Ten arrests of foreigners were made by Fayette county deputy sheriffs and all have been held for court without bail on the charge of inciting a riot. A strike is on now at the Chamouni mine. Search is being made for 15 against whom informations have been made.

Some of the leaders employed in the mines, it is stated objected to the use of the safety lamp after an order was issued by the superintendent at the instruction of Mine Inspector F. W. Cunningham of Charleroi. They claimed they were unable to see well with safety lamps. Meetings were held and a vote taken on the question of a strike, without any of the district miners' officials having been notified. There was much opposition to the proposed strike on the part of the American miners and many of the foreigners, but the foreigners apparently carried their way.

Monday morning a large number of the miners determined to go back to work. At the entrance they were met by a small army of foreigners who flashed guns, it is said, and uttered dire threats should they persist in entering the mine. The result was a battle, which it is said ended disastrously to the foreign strike element. But the miners did not go back to work. Fayette county authorities were sent for and arrived early Monday night. They swooped down on a crowd and arested ten, 15 escaping. Taken before Justice of the Peace C. C. Garletts, of Brownsville, all the ten were held for court. Those under arrest are George Parina, Mike Hopp, Frank Workapick, George Watchek, Frank Walscheck, George Emerick, John Kopacky and John Barney.

According to Mine Inspector Cunningham there is nothing else to do but use the safety lamps, by reason of the law. It is understood that the rioters will get little sympathy from district headquarters of the mine workers.

FEENEY PROPERLY ENDORSED BY MINERS

Denial of Up River Contingent Declared to be Not Strictly According to Facts

Dated at California, and signed by representatives of several locals of the United Mine Workers' organization of Washington county, a series of resolutions have been published in some of the county papers declaring that the statement that the Washington county delegation at the miners' national convention at Indianapolis that endorsed Assemblyman William Feeney of Charleroi for re-election, was not by any means unanimous. The resolutions state that delegates from nine of the locals in Washington county did not attend the caucus, and therefor did not endorse Mr. Feeney. The resolutions then proceed to denounce Mr. Feeney as a representative of the Republican party, which is arraigned as the advocate of protection, capitalism and corruption, which clearly indicates that the delegates in question are members of the Socialist party, and therefore not in accord with either Mr. Feeney or the Republican party.

Mr. Feeney states that while his endorsement at the Indianapolis convention was practically unanimous, there were some delegates who were Socialists individually, but whose political preferences did not by any means reflect the entire sentiment of the communities they represented.

INTIMATES CASE MAY GO TO SUPREME COURT

Jury Hears Child Case

Burgettstown Girl Said to Have Kept Birth Secret---Jackson's Death Accident

For concealing the birth of an illegitimate child Anna E. Noah was held to answer to the next grand jury following an investigation Monday by a coroner's jury. Coroner J. T. Heffran conducted the case. A post mortem examination was made of the child which had been buried under a front porch for several weeks before it was discovered and owing to decomposition it was unable to decide whether or not the child was alive when born.

Coroner Heffran while in Burgettstown Monday looked into the death of William Jackson, who was found in a car of burning ashes Tuesday morning. The investigation has not been completed but it is the opinion of the coroner that the young man had placed the plank on the hot ashes and lay down to spend the night and was overcome with the fumes.

ELKS TO ATTEND MEETING

Governor Tener to Nominate Pittsburg as 1913 Convention Place

PLANNING AUTO TRIP

Elks all over the country are preparing to attend the annual convention to be held in July at Portland. Oregon. Pennsylvania will be represented at the convention, the Keystone state delegation to be headed by no less a personage that Governor John K. Tener, of Charleroi who is a past grand exalted ruler of the order.

Pittsburg has announced that it will be a candidate for the next national convention and the probabilities are that Governor Tener will nominate Pittsburg on the floor of the convention. The Governor, however, will accompnay the Harrisburg Elks to Portland, on their special train. which will accommodate some of the lodges in the immediate vicinity of the capital city, and possibly those of the Charleroi lodge who will attend.

Recent reports from Williamsport indicate that a score or more will go from that city. Erie, Scranton, York, Altoona, Reading, Monessen, McKeesport, Charleroi, Lebanon and other cities and towns have advised the western people they will contribute heavily to what promises to be the greatest convention in the history of Elkdom. Several automobile trips are being planned to the convention city, but probably the longest will be that of a dozen members of the Philadelphia lodge, which will make the entire trip across the continent by automobile.

Edward Callaghan Not Through With Conspiracy Suit

FILES EXPENSE ACCOUNT

Cost of Prosecution He Affirms Amounts to the Generous Sum of $37,563.43

Intimating that proceedings would not cease until decided upon by the United States Supreme Court, former Assemblyman Edward Callaghan of Charleroi has filed a bill of costs aggregating $37,573.43, with the clerk of the county courts, as a sequel of the conspiracy suit he instituted against former Congressman E. F. Acheson, Senator J. Carter Judson and T. B. F. Brownlee. These men were charged with depriving Mr. Callaghan of his political rights by keeping his name off the official ballot as a candidate for sheriff. The bill was ignored by the recent grand jury and the costs placed on the county. Mr. Callaghan asks to have additional costs charged up and gives his reasons in the following communication addressed to the Clerk of Courts W. S. Lockhart:

"To the Clerk of Courts, Washington County, Pa.:

"I herewith file expenses incurred in attempting to establish a precedent in Washington county jurisprudence by having it declared in open court that a political crime is a treasonable crime. As the grand jury returned not a true bill and county pay the costs, I reserve the right to file additional costs provided the supreme court of the United States decides that the agreement entered into the 18th day of August, 1911 and signed and witnessed by an aggregation of men claiming allegiance to a recognized political party and aided and abetted by a certain newspaper in the county whose principles have already been at variance with the aforesaid political party, is a treasonable document and violates that part of the United States constitution which says: 'that every state shall maintain a republican form of government.'

("Signed) Edward Callaghan.
"February 23, 1912.

"Bill of particulars held in reserve until decision by supreme court is reached.

"E. C."

To Clerk of Courts, Washington County, Pa.

Expense of Edward Callaghan incurred in prosecuting conspiracy and treason charge against T. B. H. Brownlee, J. Carter Judson and Hon. E. F. Acheson. Grand jury finding, 'not a true bill' and county pay the costs to-wit:

Traveling expense two days before grand jury .....$	7.20
Two days before jury at $1.50 per day	3.00
Approximate loss of time, prestige, and emoluments of office	37,563.23

CURB MARKETS

The idea of a curb market for Charleroi is one that should seriously engage the attention of every citizen who is interested in not only cutting down the cost of living but also in [illegible] wider and better supply of country produce for domestic consumption. The curb market is where farmers, gardeners and other producers station their wagons or baskets at the curb of certain streets in a town by permission of council certain days of the week, usually Tuesdays and Saturdays, for the purpose of disposing of their products. Instead of huckstering their products from house to house the consumers come to the improvised markets, and save the producer time and money, and for that reason usually get what they purchase at a cheaper figure.

One of the good features of a curb market is that the smallest producer can take advantage of it. The chief advantage, however, is that the custom once established, develops a growing home market for farm and garden products and stimulates the production of these in our own community. When the people knows they can purchase at the general market price good fresh vegetables and fruit at a certain place on certain days of the week, they soon learn to take advantage of the opportunity. Lots of farmers have stuff go to waste that they could readily sell at a curb market who do not care to peddle it from door to door.

A curb market could be established in Charleroi without the expenditure of a dollar on the part of council. All that is necessary is to give the farmers permission to use portions of certain streets a couple of days a week and to encourage the farmers to take advantage of it. It works well in hundreds of other small cities and large towns and is a boon to the consumers.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

The finding of a first degree murder verdict at the county seat last week once again brings to the front the question of capital punishment. There are to be found in every community people who oppose capital punishment on the broad grounds of humanity, who argue that two wrongs do not make a right, and that taking a life for a life is retribution and not justice.

While this is true, society must be protected. Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness is guaranteed to every person in this country, but there are so many obstacles to this, that in the most of the States public sentiment has not reached the point which does not cry out for the life of the criminal who deliberately takes the life of a fellow being. It is more than likely that were swift and sure punishment meted out to every deliberate murderer that society would not demand capital punishment. As conditions now are in the most of the States the chances of a murderer of being convicted of first degree murder is about one in eighty. The chances of absolute escape from any punishment whatever is so great, through the loop holes and technicalities of the law, that there is little restraint so far as fear of the law is concerned. While many persons advocate the substitution of life imprisonment for capital punishment, so many pardons are effected under these circumstances that the imprisonment penalty is not considered adequate in the face of the law's delays and uncertainties.

As a consequence of this lack of confidence in the courts by the public, the retributive feature in the punishment of criminals is still dominant. Men are hanged—when this penalty is inflicted at all—not because they murdered people but in order to prevent people from being murdered. A murdered safely out of the way is no longer a menace to society, and when he is once hanged or electrocuted no legal technicality or pardon board can turn him loose upon the public. For that reason popular sentiment is still in favor of capital punishment.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

The Rev. J. W. Kramer, in a sermon in the First Baptist Church of Spokane, Wash., recently spoke in behalf of the newspapers and newspaper men as follows:

"A city without newspapers would be a city without colleges and churches. They are the greatest educators in the land. I believe that God guided the hand of Gutenberg to make movable type, as it did Paul's to write the epistles, and that if Christ were alive today He would use the newspapers.

"I believe that it is possible for a newspaper man to get to heaven. Next to the minister, no man is more misrepresented than he, no one is threatened more, and the last man we think of paying or praying for are the preacher and the paper man. The journalist is expected to champion all causes and encourage all enterprises, but who ever thinks of encouraging him?

"I am free to confess that if men ever can be elected to office without swearing fidelity to the whiskey interests, if the desposition of the privileged class is to be overthrown, if men in legislative halls are to cease to be hypnotized before the presence of the money powers, these reforms are not possible through the church, but through a God-illumined press."

About midnight Saturday night Chief of Police C. W. Albright and Patrolman James Murphy responded to a call to Eight street and McKean avenue, where it was stated a colored women from Monessen was holding up pedestrians. Going to the scene, they discovered the accused woman talking to a foreigner, and trying by the offer of certain inducements to extract from his grasp a dollar. She was packed into the patrol wagon and hauled to the lockup.

Arriving there she made known her intention to put up a forfeit.

"All right," said Chief Albright, "it will be $10."

"Land sakes, dat's high, but by golly, I'll pay it."

Deep into her stocking the woman went, while the men present turned their heads. Fishing a $20 bill from the heel part of her hose she presented it to the chief and received her change.

"Does I has to come back?" she inquired.

"It is not absolutely necessary," replied the chief, "but of course you understand if you do not you forfeit the money."

She left, but when she had gottten to the other side of the street, she turned around called back to the chief.

"Say, Mistah Chief, doan yu look foh me, foh I'se not comin' back."

The Arctic Explorer—Say, can you tell me where I can find the North Pole?

The Eskimo—Nix. If I knew I'd have had it in a museum long ago.

Seal's Marvelous Instinct.

The instinct of the seal is marvelous. It will leave its young on the ice in the morning, and, going down through a hole, remain away all day swimming in search of food. Returning in the evening it will locate its offspring in the same "patch" among hundreds of thousands of other baby seals, notwithstanding that the ice may have wheeled or drifted 50 or 60 miles during the day from wind and tide, and notwithstanding that the patch may extend 30 or 40 miles from one end to the other. Whether this instinct is of the class that enables the bird, without any mark or chart, in a forest with millions of trees alike, to find its way back with ease and precision to its nest, I do not know, but it is one of the wonders in nature before which human knowledge is brought to a full stop.—Sir Edward Morris, in Wide World Magazine.

Hogs Getting Thinner.

Hogs apparently are following the fashion and have joined the antifat movement, which paved the way for the hobble skirt. Statistics to the department of agriculture indicate that they are getting thinner every year, and that the razorback yet may be the porcine model. Hogs marketed between 30 and 40 years ago averaged one-fourth heavier. In the decade 1870-79 the average weight of hogs killed during the winter months in western packing centers was about 275 pounds; in the decade 1880-89 about 257 pounds; in the decade 1890-99 about 239 pounds, and in the past decade about 239 pounds, and in the past decade 1900-09, about 219 pounds. No theories are advanced by the department of agriculture as to the cause of this decrease in the weight of porkers.

Foolish to Place Coins in Mouth.

American Medicine soothingly declares that many people are unnecessarily disturbed over the danger of infection from laundries, money and postage stamps. It says "some one has been alarming us because he found a few bacteria on gummed postage stamps, though he should have been astonished if he had not found them." This medical authority adds: "Common sense tells us not to put dirty money in the mouth, for it may have recently been tucked away in a very dirty place, yet its germs are mostly dead and we can lay very little disease to its agency. Its evils are of another sort. Our clothing is boiled in the laundry and even if pus-soaked it does not spread infection."

Gaynor's Bible Neglected.

On his tour Mayor Gaynor of New York stopped at Great Barrington to look at the library of the town, to which, 14 years ago, while a summer resident there, he presented a copy of the Bible.

At that time he wanted a copy for reference in preparing a speech he was to make and was shocked to find that there was no copy of the Bible in the generous collection of bound volumes of which the town had always been proud. He gave a copy to the town library, and on the fly leaf of the book he wrote:

"I have found a great many libraries which lacked a great many books, but never before have I found one like this, which lacked the Great Book."

The town has guarded the Gaynor Bible zealously since 1897. It is in the pink of condition, never apparently having been opened; in fact, some of the leaves are still uncut.—Waterbury Post.

New Tuberculosis Remedy Based on Medicine

To say that a specific exists for the cure of Consumption is perhaps too strong a statement, but in Eckman's Alterative we have a medicine that has been the means of saving many a life to years of usefulness, and in permanently curing a large number of Consumptives.

Certainly a person afflicted with a wasting disease should be well fed with wholesome, nourishing food, but frequently raw eggs in quantities cause a digestive breakdown, and then no food nourishes. As for milk, a very good food for many, but a producer of biliousness for some.

Any diet that keeps a Consumptive well nourished is the right one, but what is going to cure the patient?—Eckman's Alterative has cured and is curing many a case of Consumption. Let those speak who know. Here is a specimen:

50 Savannah St., Rochester, N. Y.

"Gentlemen: On June 3, 1907, I was operated upon for Tubercular peritonitis, at St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, N. Y. After the operation my physician gave me up as hopeless. I was then urged by a priest to take Eckman's Alterative, which I did. My weight at the time was 72 lbs. I began to improve and steadily gained in health and strength. I now weigh 125 lbs., and am absolutely cured. Believing I owe it to myself and others I make this statement."

"EIGHTS" ARE THEIR HOODOOS

Postal Clerks Say Stamps of That Denomination Cause Them Much Financial Loss.

When a meek little man stepped up to the stamp window in a branch office and asked for an eight cent stamp he caused as much consternation as if he had demanded "your money or your life."

All the clerks came to the window to take a look at him. They muttered to one another and made strange and fantastic signs, crossed their fingers, knocked on wood and did various other things that are supposed to drive away evil spirits.

"We're just out of eight cent stamps," a clerk finally stammered. "Got lots of two and ones."

"Well, gimme a five and a three," said the meek little man, upon receiving which he paid for them and departed.

"What's the matter with the eights?" queried an inquisitive spectator.

The stamp clerk was still too nervous to answer, but one of the others said, with a smile:

"Eights are hoodoos. None of the small offices handle them if they can help it. It's this way: They are just a wee shade different in color from the ones and it is no infrequent thing for a stamp clerk in a hurry to hand out a lot of eights when ones are asked and paid for. It always costs him seven cents a stamp when he does it. The clerk here the other day, during the rush hour, when the offices are closing, was called upon for a dollar's worth of ones. He handed out a hundred eights instead. Cost him seven dollars. Then he got rid of all the rest of the eights and now he won't have anything to do with eights. Even says 'eaten' instead of 'ate.'"

Truth in a Nutshell.

As Puck said, "What fools these mortals be!" If there were no fools there would be no rogues, just as if there was no filth there would be no flies, and if there were no swamps there would be no mosquitoes.

Easily Worked.

Crawford—The rich seem to have a snap in dodging the duty on things they bring over. Crabshaw—Why don't they engage the same lawyers who show them how to dodge their taxes?—Puck.

Mcodie Makes a Call.

Andrew Moodie, a farmer residing near town, went to visit a neighbor, John Telford, the other night. As he opened the door leading into the house he fell, in the dark, through the open trap door of the cellar. At the moment Telford was ascending the cellar stairs, and Moodie dropped astride his neck. Both went to the bottom, Telford escaping unhurt, but Moodie sustaining a fracture of three ribs.—Smith Falls Dispatch in Toronto Mail.

Titanic Tolstoi.

Everything in Tolstoi's character, an eminent Russian writer says, attained Titanic proportions. "As a drinker he absorbed fantastic quantities of liquor. As a gambler, he terrified his partners by the boldness of his play. As a soldier he advanced gayly to Bastion 4, the bastion of death, at Sevastopol, and there he made dying men laugh at his witty sayings. He surpassed every one by his prodigious activity in sport as well as literature."

RESULTS POOR IN SIZZLER

Charleroi Team is Outpointed by Johnstown in Warm Battle

SECOND HALF SCREAMER

Before a handful of spectators that yelled themselves hoarse, rejoiced, coaxed, cajoled, threatened or did the opposite by turn, the Johnstown Central League leader beat the Charleroi basketball five by the score of 47 to 40 Monday night As a game the affair figured as one of the best of the season, with speed to burn on both sides. Little Alton of Pittsburg and sorry of the fact, was the high muckamuck of the taffy pulling, and he was treated to a few gentle zephers in the way of advice from the side lines. but his kingship went on bossing the game with an impartial hand that added zest to the cage battle. Willis Keenan was the first individual to land a shot from the field. Captain Jack followed with a foul goal. Johnstown before the first half had ended had annexed nine field goals, and three foul goals.

Charleroi's best was three field goals and eight fouls. Dolin tallied the first field goal just as the watch ticked thirteen minutes of the first half.

Auspiciously the second period opened when Wileboy Keenan struck a pose and heaved a basket. Jacky Adams scored one from the foul line. Johnstown climbed to 33 without stopping to look around whereupon Captain Jack tallied another. From that time forward the game was a grand combination of passing, shoting, team work and burglary—burglary in the theft of the ball from one side to the other.

Jacky Adams proved much of the show for Charleroi, but had as chief assistants KeeKee Peiffer and Jimsey Brown. Everybody on the Johnstown side got field goals except Kinkaide and he didn't try for any. There were 14 scored for Charleroi and 21 for Johnstown this part of the engagement and the fouls were four to two. Lineup:

Charleroi—40		Johnstown—47
Adams	F	Newman
J. Brown	F	Fogarty
Dolin	C	Keenan
Peiffer	G	Mayhem
Herron	G	Kinkaide

Field goals—Adams 6, J Brown 4, Dolin 2, Pfeiffer 2, Newman 7, Fogarty 4, Keenan 7, Mayham 3. Foul goals—Adams, 12 out of 19; Fogarty 5 out of 7. Referee—Alton.

FORTY-FIVE YEARS OF WEDDED LIFE

Children and Grandchildren of Charleroi Couple Give Linen Shower

Surrounded by their children and grandchildren who live near home, and with letters of congratulations and remembrances from those who could not be present, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Parsons Monday evening celebrated the forty-fifth aniversary of their marriage at their home at 329 Fallowfield avenue. The affair took the form of a linen shower and the bride of forty-five years ago received many beautiful pieces with which to re-stock her linen chest. A program of songs and recitations by the little folks and music by the older ones was enjoyed. Particular attention was given to the old songs for the pleasure of the "bride and groom." An elegant lunch was served.

Miss Esther Frye, daughter of A. P. Frye, and B. L. Parsons were united in marriage February 26,1867. The ceremony was performed by the late Rev. L.P. Streator, in the First Christian church of Belle Vernon. In order that they might take a boat to make connections on their wedding trip to Wellsburg, W. Va., the wedding took place at 7 o'clock in the morning. The bride was popular in social circles along the valley. She met Mr. Parsons while she was visiting a friend in Pittsburg. He was at that time manager of the Knox nurseries at Knoxville. His home was in Wellsburg, W. Va.,

Mr. and Mrs. Parsons have always lived in the Monongahela valley and have watched with interest the changes and progress made. They have been residents of Charleroi for seventeen years. Their family consists of ten children six of whom are married, and twelve grandchildren, making thirty in the immediate family.

Bicycle Wheel in Astronomy.

An interesting use has been found in astronomy for the bicycle wheel. By fitting such a wheel with a series of opaque screens placed at regular intervals and then rotating it with the aid of a small motor at the rate of from 30 to 50 turns in a minute before the cameras used to photograph meteors, one investigator has succeeded in measuring the velocity of the meteor's flight. The principle depends upon the interruptions produced by the screens in the trails of light made upon the photographic plates by the flying meteor. The velocity of the wheel is known at every instant by means of a chronographic record, and the length of the interruptions indicate the speed of the meteor.

Turkey's Plan for Undiluted Milk.

The sanitary inspector of Salonica, in Turkey, has adopted a plan for insuring to the public a supply of undiluted milk. He has ordered a supply of cans fitted with valves working in such a manner that a liquid may be poured out but not in. Another opening permits the cans to be filled with milk. The cans, when they are full, are taken to inspection depots, where their contents are chemically tested, after which this second opening is closed and stamped with an official seal. All dealers will be supplied with these cans and compelled to use them.

Superior Paper.

As illustrating the excellence of the paper (which is made from unused linen scraps) upon which Bank of England notes are printed, it is stated that when one of these notes is twisted into a rope it will sustain a weight of 358 pounds.

Sermon by the Deacon.

"Girls whose grandmothers used to get outdoors and boil a big iron kettle full of maple sirup or soft soap," says Deacon Palmer, "think they are doing something when they can roast a marshmallow in a chafing dish."—Atlanta Constitution.

Pomades and Hair Oils.

Some people have such dry hair that they are obliged to use pomades to prevent it from breaking off.

The use of liquid vaseline is highly recommended.

Inferior pomatums cause or hasten the loss of hair. Therefore, unless you can procure the very best from a well-known druggist, prepare them yourself.

The grease and the oils which are used, to be preserved from growing rancid, must go through a suitable process. Put in a brain-marie 200 grams of fat or marrow, with six grams of powdered benzoin and six grams of pulverized balm of tolu. Stir constantly with a wooden spatula. After two hours of hard boiling, strain through a bit of linen. Benzoic acid possesses the quality of preventing the fat to which it has been added from becoming rancid.

Buddhism and Animal Life.

It must be said of Buddhism that it has left one indelible mark all over India, China, and the east, and that is the teaching of gentleness and kindness to one another and to animals. Buddha taught that life is but a prolonged endeavor to escape from suffering, and that, therefore, to cause others to suffer is the unforgiveable sin.—Price Collier in Scribner's Magazine.

Among The Passers

Wohlfarth was sent to the bench to keep time. Asked why, Captain Fogarty said, "The other lineup works best here."

Captain Adams had his lip split by a collision in the first half that kept bothering him throughout the game.

Charleroi had just five men in uniform, Allie Brown's genial countenance being missed. He was unable to come from his home in Homestead because of illness.

Jimsey Brown and Kinkaide, former teammates of the Uniontown five mixed things up around the forward field, and not until the second half did Our Own succeed in getting away for keeps from the big blonde

Bill Herron gave a sample of busting that would have done credit to a broncho buster, only Bill's was the team work busting kind.

Newman's first field goal shot on a dead run deserved credit.

Dolin's first goal was brought about by some of the prettiest team work ever. To begin with he hit the ball into the air from center. Catching it as it came down he did a little team work by dribbling. Six or a dozen Johnstown fellows tried the Reno act, got left, and finally his nibs aged 19, ended the play by placing the bulb in the netting, the ball never having left his control.

Peiffer shared with Captain Jack Adams the honors of the evening. His guard work was of the class A order and his two goals were glorious.

Captain Jack Adams played all around Mayham in the second half, slinging goals like some of the old orators slinging language.

Referee Alton laughed when kidded from the balcony for what over enthusiastic fans termed punk refereeing.

SURPRISE GIVEN CHARLEROI WOMAN

Mrs. E.Allison of 307 Oakland avenue was very agreeably surprised last evening when at 7:30 twenty of her woman friends arrived at her home to celebrate the 54th anniversary of her birth. A very pleasant evening was spent with music and social conversation. Mrs. Allison received many useful and ornamental presents of silver, cut glass, china and cut flowers. At 11 o'clock the room where Mrs. Allison's three guests were ushered into the dining daughters had prepared a bountiful lunch. At a late hour all departed for their homes, wishing Mrs. Allison many happy returns of the day.

Knowing that it is a party tenet of the Socialists never to endorse or receive political endorsements these delegates were not invited to participate in the caucus that endorsed Mr. Feeney. While nine of the delegates from Washington county may not be in accord with Mr. Feeney politically, this does not signify that a great majority of the miners of the district do not desire Mr. Feeney's renomination and election. Outside of individual members of the Socialist party Mr. Feeney has the general endorsement of the miners of Washington county.

Heaven Here.

When I was away for my holiday, I went once to the side of a little highland loch on a calm day, when all the winds were still, and every birch tree stood unmoved, and every twig reflected on the steadfast mirror, into the depths of which heaven's own blue seemed to have found its way. That is what our hearts may be, if we let Christ put his guarding hand round them to keep the storms off, and have him within us for our rest. But the man who does not trust Jesus is like the troubled sea which cannot rest, but goes moaning around half the world, homeless and hungry, rolling and heaving, monotonous and yet changeful, salt and barren, the true emblem of every soul that has not listened to the merciful call: "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."—Doctor Maclaren.

To Purify Water.

To purify water sprinkle a tablespoonful of pulverized alum into a hogshead of water (the water to be stirred at the same time). It will after a few hours, by precipitating to the bottom the impure particles, so purify the water that it will be found to possess nearly all the freshness and clearness of spring water. A pailful containing four gallons may be purified by a teaspoonful of alum.—National Magazine.

Noble Ideal.

In the effort to appreciate various forms of greatness, let us not underestimate the value of a simply good life. Just to be good; to keep life pure from degrading elements, to make it constantly helpful in little ways to those who are touched by it to keep one's spirit always sweet, and avoid all manner of petty anger and irritability—that is an ideal as noble as it is difficult.

Babies Chew Tobacco.

Eskimo babies, it is alleged, are seldom weaned before the fourth or fifth year, but are taught to chew tobacco and to swallow the juice even as early as the ninth month. The customs—general with both sexes—of inhaling tobacco smoke and swallowing tobacco juice seem to be of no recent growth. No evil results of either practice seem to be apparent.—Medical Times.

MINERS GETTING READY FOR A HOT ENCOUNTER

Feehan and Halapy Factions Active for Favorites

CONVENTION POSTPONED

Will Open at Later Date This Year Than Usual--Complexities of Situation

Notices were issued Monday from the offices of the Pittsburg district United Mine Workers for the annual convention of the miners of the district to be held in Pittsburg on March 19. The convention will be held later than usual this year, having been postponed from February 12 Hot times are expected and two factions which are represented by Francis Feehan, president of the district and Michael Halapy, who would like to be president, are getting ready for an encounter which seems inevitable.

Feehan's forces have been professing all along their belief that he is the winner of the district presidency for another term, but some more conservative minds seem clouded with doubt as to his success. Halapy, who is now the editor of the United Mine Workers Journal, and a Socialist of note, is firm in the conviction that he and not Feehan is the rightful heir to the throne. His conviction is backed to some extent it is said by generous fact. At the election last fall when the miners voted on Feehan and Halapy for district president there was considerable sentiment worked up against Feehan, who is winding up his fourth term. Halapy' friends attended to this. A partial review of the situation lent confidence to the minds of the Feehan men. The Halapy men smiled.

The latest statement is that Halapy has the greatest number of votes, but at that will have a tough time acquiring the presidential job. It is rumored throughout the district that the enthusiasts for Halapy in gathering the vote in his favor joyfully sent in the vote of locals by the block, the same as though certain politician would send in by one block, the registered vote of a town before it was taken. These votes will be subjected most likely to a court of inquiry, and it is stated the final result of the presidency will depend upon their decision. Outside of Feehan the regular slate seems certain to win against the slate put up by the Halapy men.

Monongahela, meanwhile is getting along with what is claimed to be the highest deficiency charge in the valley—31 cents or $3.10 on every $1,000 of insurance. A movement is now on foot there to have a reduction made through certain needed improvements.

Charleroi is now paying 18 cents of a deficiency rate and when an inspection of changes recently made in the supply system is concluded, is entitled to a reduction of three cents more. It is said Monessen secured its reduction by certain changes in the fire department and the water supply.

MAKING SEARCH FOR MISSING YOUNG MAN

Nothing Heard From Lindsay Wakefield Since Last August---Mother Nearly Frantic---Foul Play Feared

Through the instrumentality of Isaac Wakefield, head of the Charleroi Iron Works, search has begun for Lindsay L. Wakefield, a former Charleroi man who has been mising since last August He was formerly employed at the Macbeth-Evans Glass plant as a machinist, and has worked in a garage. His mother, Mrs. Thomas Wakefield, who lives in Preston county W. Va., is nearly frantic with grief having not heard from her son since he left here. Foul play is feared.

When young Wakefield left here about the middle of last August he said he would likely go to Pittsburg and from there possibly to Cleveland or Cincinnati, Ohio. Since then nothing has been heard from him. He is an all-around machinist, but had done some automible garage work He is 25 years old, about 5 feet 10 inches tall, slender and erect, with square shoulders, always well dressed and neat in appearance. He has light hair, blue eyes, smooth face and is youthful in appearance. Such is the description furnished by Mr. Wakefield here, who is his uncle. When young Wakefield left Charleroi his baggage included a trunk and a tool chest.

A quiet young man of good habits, Wakefield won many friends while here, but none of them have heard from him. He was not given much to writing letters, even to his parents but frequently sent post cards to his mother while away from home and made frequent trips back to see her.

TEN ARRESTED AS A RESULT OF RIOT

Miners Engage in Pitched Battle at Chamouni Mine---Starts From Order to Use Safety Lamps in Certain Rooms

As the result of a number of Polish and Russian miners refusing to abide by the State law and the order of the superintendent to use safety lamps in designated rooms of the Chamouni mine of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company across the river from California, a pitched battle between miners resulted Monday. Ten arrests of foreigners were made by Fayette county deputy sheriffs and all have been held for court without bail on the charge of inciting a riot. A strike is on now at the Chamouni mine. Search is being made for 15 against whom informations have been made.

Some of the leaders employed in the mines, it is stated objected to the use of the safety lamp after an order was issued by the superintendent at the instruction of Mine Inspector F. W. Cunningham of Charleroi They claimed they were unable to see well with safety lamps. Meetings were held and a vote taken on the question of a strike, without any of the district miners' officials having been notified. There was much opposition to the proposed strike on the part of the American miners and many of the foreigners, but the foreigners apparently carried their way.

Monday morning a large number of the miners determined to go back to work. At the entrance they were met by a small army of foreigners who flashed guns, it is said, and uttered dire threats should they persist in entering the mine. The result was a battle, which it is said ended disastrously to the foreign strike element But the miners did not go back to work. Fayette county authorities were sent for and arrived early Monday night. They swooped down on a crowd and arested ten, 15 escaping Taken before Justice of the Peace C. C. Garletts, of Brownsville, all the ten were held for court. Those under arrest are George Parina, Mike Hopp, Frank Workapick, George Watchek, Frank Walscheck, George Emerick, John Kopacky and John Barney.

According to Mine Inspector Cunningham there is nothing else to do but use the safety lamps, by reason of the law. It is understood that the rioters will get little sympathy from district headquarters of the mine workers.

FEENEY PROPERLY ENDORSED BY MINERS

Denial of Up River Contingent Declared to be Not Strictly According to Facts

Dated at California, and signed by representatives of several locals of the United Mine Workers' organization of Washington county, a series of resolutions have been published in some of the county papers declaring that the statement that the Washington county delegation at the miners' national convention at Indianapolis that endorsed Assemblyman William Feeney of Charleroi for re-election, was not by any means unanimous. The resolutions state that delegates from nine of the locals in Washington county did not attend the caucus, and therefor did not endorse Mr. Feeney. The resolutions then proceed to denounce Mr. Feeney as a representative of the Republican party, which is arraigned as the advocate of protection, capitalism and corruption, which clearly indicates that the delegates in question are members of the Socialist party, and therefore not in accord with either Mr. Feeney or the Republican party.

Mr. Feeney states that while his endorsement at the Indianapolis convention was practically unanimous, there were some delegates who were Socialists individually, but whose political preferences did not by any means reflect the entire sentiment of the communities they represented.

Coroner Heffran while in Burgettstown Monday looked into the death of William Jackson, who was found in a car of burning ashes Tuesday morning The investigation has not been completed but it is the opinion of the coroner that the young man had placed the plank on the hot ashes and lay down to spend the night and was overcome with the fumes.

ELKS TO ATTEND MEETING

Governor Tener to Nominate Pittsburg as 1913 Convention Place

PLANNING AUTO TRIP

Elks all over the country are preparing to attend the annual convention to be held in July at Portland Oregon. Pennsylvania will be represented at the convention, the Keystone state delegation to be headed by no less a personage that Governor John K. Tener, of Charleroi who is a past grand exalted ruler of the order.

Pittsburg has announced that it will be a candidate for the next national convention and the probabilities are that Governor Tener will nominate Pittsburg on the floor of the convention The Governor, however, will accompnay the Harrisburg Elks to Portland, on their special train which will accommodate some of the lodges in the immediate vicinity of the capital city, and possibly those of the Charleroi lodge who will attend.

Recent reports from Williamsport indicate that a score or more will go from that city. Erie, Scranton, York, Altoona, Reading, Monessen, McKeesport, Charleroi, Lebanon and other cities and towns have advised the western people they will contribute heavily to what promises to be the greatest convention in the history of Elkdom. Several automobile trips are being planned to the convention city, but probably the longest will be that of a dozen members of the Philadelphia lodge, which will make the entire trip across the continent by automobile.

Edward Callaghan Not Through With Conspiracy Suit

FILES EXPENSE ACCOUNT

Cost of Prosecution He Affirms Amounts to the Generous Sum of $37,563.43

Intimating that proceedings would not cease until decided upon by the United States Supreme Court, former Assemblyman Edward Callaghan of Charleroi has filed a bill of costs aggregating $37,573.43, with the clerk of the county courts, as a sequel of the conspiracy suit he instituted against former Congressman E. F. Acheson, Senator J. Carter Judson and T. B. F. Brownlee These men were charged with depriving Mr. Callaghan of his political rights by keeping his name off the official ballot as a candidate for sheriff. The bill was ignored by the recent grand jury and the costs placed on the county. Mr. Callaghan asks to have additional costs charged up and gives his reasons in the following communication addressed to the Clerk of Courts W. S. Lockhart:

"To the Clerk of Courts, Washington County, Pa:

"I herewith file expenses incurred in attempting to establish a precedent in Washington county jurisprudence by having it declared in open court that a political crime is a treasonable crime. As the grand jury returned not a true bill and county pay the costs, I reserve the right to file additional costs provided the supreme court of the United States decides that the agreement entered into the 18th day of August, 1911 and signed and witnessed by an aggregation of men claiming allegiance to a recognized political party and aided and abetted by a certain newspaper in the county whose principles have already been at variance with the aforesaid political party, is a treasonable document and violates that part of the United States constitution which says: 'that every state shall maintain a republican form of government.'

("Signed) Edward Callaghan.

CURB MARKETS

The idea of a curb market for Charleroi is one that should seriously engage the attention of every citizen who is interested in not only cutting down the cost of living but also in [illegible] wider and better supply of country produce for domestic consumption. The curb market is where farmers, gardeners and other producers station their wagons or baskets at the curb of certain streets in a town by permission of council certain days of the week, usually Tuesdays and Saturdays, for the purpose of disposing of their products. Instead of huckstering their products from house to house the consumers come to the improvised markets, and save the producer time and money, and for that reason usually get what they purchase at a cheaper figure.

One of the good features of a curb market is that the smallest producer can take advantage of it. The chief advantage, however, is that the custom once established, develops a growing home market for farm and garden products and stimulates the production of these in our own community. When the people knows they can purchase at the general market price good fresh vegetables and fruit at a certain place on certain days of the week, they soon learn to take advantage of the opportunity. Lots of farmers have stuff go to waste that they could readily sell at a curb market who do not care to peddle it from door to door.

A curb market could be established in Charleroi without the expenditure of a dollar on the part of council. All that is necessary is to give the farmers permission to use portions of certain streets a couple of days a week and to encourage the farmers to take advantage of it. It works well in hundreds of other small cities and large towns and is a boon to the consumers.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

The finding of a first degree murder verdict at the county seat last week once again brings to the front the question of capital punishment. There are to be found in every community people who oppose capital punishment on the broad grounds of humanity, who argue that two wrongs do not make a right, and that taking a life for a life is retribution and not justice.

While this is true, society must be protected. Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness is guaranteed to every person in this country, but there are so many obstacles to this, that in the most of the States public sentiment has not reached the point which does not cry out for the life of the criminal who deliberately takes the life of a fellow being. It is more than likely that were swift and sure punishment meted out to every deliberate murderer that society would not demand capital punishment. As conditions now are in the most of the States the chances of a murderer of being convicted of first degree murder is about one in eighty. The chances of absolute escape from any punishment whatever is so great, through the loop holes and technicalities of the law, that there is little restraint so far as fear of the law is concerned. While many persons advocate the substitution of life imprisonment for capital punishment, so many pardons are effected under these circumstances that the imprisonment penalty is not considered adequate in the face of the law's delays and uncertainties.

As a consequence of this lack of confidence in the courts by the public, the retributive feature in the punishment of criminals is still dominant. Men are hanged—when this penalty is inflicted at all—not because they murdered people but in order to prevent people from being murdered. A murdered safely out of the way is no onger a menace to society, and when a is once hanged or electrocuted no legal technicality or pardon board can urn him loose upon the public. For that reason popular sentiment is still in favor of capital punishment.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

The Rev. J. W. Kramer, in a sermon in the First Baptist Church of Spokane, Wash., recently spoke in behalf of the newspapers and newspaper men as follows:

"A city without newspapers would be a city without colleges and churches. They are the greatest educators in the land. I believe that God guided the hand of Gutenberg to make movable type, as it did Paul's to write the epistles, and that if Christ were alive today He would use the newspapers.

"I believe that it is possible for a newspaper man to get to heaven Next to the minister, no man is more misrepresented than he, no one is threatened more, and the last man we think of paying or praying for are the preacher and the paper man. The journalist is expected to champion all causes and encourage all enterprises, but who ever thinks of encouraging him?

"I am free to confess that if men ever can be elected to office without swearing fidelity to the whiskey interests, if the desposition of the privileged class is to be overthrown, if men in legislative halls are to cease to be hypnotized before the presence of the money powers, these reforms are not possible through the church, but through a God-illumined press."

About midnight Saturday night Chief of Police C. W. Albright and Patrolman James Murphy responded to a call to Eight street and McKean avenue, where it was stated a colored women from Monessen was holding up pedestrians. Going to the scene, they discovered the accused woman talking to a foreigner, and trying by the offer of certain inducements to extract from his grasp a dollar. She was packed into the patrol wagon and hauled to the lockup.

Arriving there she made known her intention to put up a forfeit.

"All right," said Chief Albright, "it will be $10."

"Land sakes, dat's high, but by golly, I'll pay it."

Deep into her stocking the woman went, while the men present turned their heads. Fishing a $20 bill from the heel part of her hose she presented it to the chief and received her change.

"Does I has to come back?" she inquired.

"It is not absolutely necessary," replied the chief, "but of course you understand if you do not you forfeit the money."

She left, but when she had gotten to the other side of the street, she turned around called back to the chief.

"Say, Mistah Chief, doan yu look foh me, foh I'se not comin' back."

Seal's Marvelous Instinct.

The instinct of the seal is marvelous. It will leave its young on the ice in the morning, and, going down through a hole, remain away all day swimming in search of food. Returning in the evening it will locate its offspring in the same "patch" among hundreds of thousands of other baby seals, notwithstanding that the ice may have wheeled or drifted 50 or 60 miles during the day from wind and tide, and notwithstanding that the patch may extend 30 or 40 miles from one end to the other. Whether this instinct is of the class that enables the bird, without any mark or chart, in a forest with millions of trees alike, to find its way back with ease and precision to its nest, I do not know, but it is one of the wonders in nature before which human knowledge is brought to a full stop.—Sir Edward Morris, in Wide World Magazine.

Hogs Getting Thinner.

Hogs apparently are following the fashion and have joined the antifat movement, which paved the way for the hobble skirt. Statistics to the department of agriculture indicate that they are getting thinner every year, and that the razorback yet may be the porcine model. Hogs marketed between 30 and 40 years ago averaged one-fourth heavier. In the decade 1870-79 the average weight of hogs killed during the winter months in western packing centers was about 275 pounds; in the decade 1880-89 about 257 pounds; in the decade 1890-99 about 239 pounds, and in the past decade 1900-09, about 219 pounds. No theories are advanced by the department of agriculture as to the cause of this decrease in the weight of porkers.

Foolish to Place Coins in Mouth.

American Medicine soothingly declares that many people are unnecessarily disturbed over the danger of infection from laundries, money and postage stamps. It says "some one has been alarming us because he found a few bacteria on gummed postage stamps, though he should have been astonished if he had not found them." This medical authority adds: "Common sense tells us not to put dirty money in the mouth, for it may have recently been tucked away in a very dirty place, yet its germs are mostly dead and we can lay very little disease to its agency. Its evils are of another sort. Our clothing is boiled in the laundry and even if pus-soaked it does not spread infection."

Gaynor's Bible Neglected.

On his tour Mayor Gaynor of New York stopped at Great Barrington to look at the library of the town, to which, 14 years ago, while a summer resident there, he presented a copy of the Bible

At that time he wanted a copy for reference in preparing a speech he was to make and was shocked to find that there was no copy of the Bible in the generous collection of bound volumes of which the town had always been proud. He gave a copy to the town library, and on the fly leaf of the book he wrote:

"I have found a great many libraries which lacked a great many books, but never before have I found one like this, which lacked the Great Book."

The town has guarded the Gaynor Bible zealously since 1897. It is in the pink of condition, never apparently having been opened; in fact, some of the leaves are still uncut.—Waterbury Post.

New Tuberculosis Remedy Based on Medicine

To say that a specific exists for the cure of Consumption is perhaps too strong a statement, but in Eckman's Alterative we have a medicine that has been the means of saving many a life to years of usefulness, and in permanently curing a large number of Consumptives.

Certainly a person afflicted with a wasting disease should be well fed with wholesome, nourishing food, but frequently raw eggs in quantities cause a digestive breakdown, and then no food nourishes. As for milk a very good food for many, but a producer of biliousness for some.

Any food that keeps a Consumptive well nourished is the right one, but what is going to cure the patient?—Eckman's Alterative has cured and is curing many a case of Consumption. Let those speak who know. Here is a specimen:

50 Savannah St., Rochester, N. Y.

"Gentlemen—On June 3, 1907, I was operated upon for Tubercular peritonitis, at St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, N. Y. After the operation my physician gave me up as hopeless. I was then urged by a priest to take Eckman's Alterative, which I did. My weight at the time was 72 lbs. I began to improve and steadily gained in health and strength. I now weigh 125 lbs., and am absolutely cured. Believing I owe it to myself and others I make this statement."

(Signed Affidavit) EDNA FINZER.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Raising Black Fox.

On Prince Edward Island about 25,000 muskrats, 500 minks, 1,000 red foxes and a few weasels are killed each year. The black fox is bred there by people who keep their methods secret. A good black fox skin is worth $1,500.

The Difference.

What is the difference between a gardener, a billiard player, a gentleman and a sexton? The first minds his peas; the second minds his cues; the third minds his p's and q's; the fourth minds his keys and pews.

"EIGHTS" ARE THEIR HOODOOS

Postal Clerks Say Stamps of That Denomination Cause Them Much Financial Loss.

When a meek little man stepped up to the stamp window in a branch office and asked for an eight cent stamp he caused as much consternation as if he had demanded "your money or your life."

All the clerks came to the window to take a look at him. They muttered to one another and made strange and fantastic signs, crossed their fingers, knocked on wood and did various other things that are supposed to drive away evil spirits.

"We're just out of eight cent stamps," a clerk finally stammered. "Got lots of two and ones."

"Well, gimme a five and a three," said the meek little man, upon receiving which he paid for them and departed.

"What's the matter with the eights?" queried an inquisitive spectator.

The stamp clerk was still too nervous to answer, but one of the others said, with a smile:

"Eights are hoodoos. None of the small offices handle them if they can help it. It's this way: They are just a wee shade different in color from the ones and it is no infrequent thing for a stamp clerk in a hurry to hand out a lot of eights when ones are asked and paid for. It always costs him seven cents a stamp when he does it. The clerk here the other day, during the rush hour, when the offices are closing, was called upon for a dollar's worth of ones. He handed out a hundred eights instead. Cost him seven dollars. Then he got rid of all the rest of the eights and now he won't have anything to do with eights. Even says 'eaten' instead of 'ate.'"

Truth in a Nutshell.

As Puck said, "What fools these mortals be!" If there were no fools there would be no rogues, just as if there was no filth there would be no flies, and if there were no swamps there would be no mosquitoes.

Easily Worked.

Crawford—The rich seem to have a way of dodging the duty on things they bring over. Crabshaw—Why don't they engage the same lawyers who show them how to dodge their taxes?—Puck.

Moodie Makes a Call.

Andrew Moodie, a farmer residing near town, went to visit a neighbor, John Telford, the other night. As he opened the door leading into the house he fell, in the dark, through the open trap door of the cellar. At the moment Telford was ascending the cellar stairs, and Moodie dropped astride his neck. Both went to the bottom, Telford escaping unhurt, but Moodie sustaining a fracture of three ribs.—Smith Falls Dispatch in Toronto Mail.

Titanic Tolstoi.

Everything in Tolstoi's character, an eminent Russian writer says, attained Titanic proportions. "As a drinker he absorbed fantastic quantities of liquor. As a gambler, he terrified his partners by the boldness of his play. As a soldier he advanced gayly to Bastion 4, the bastion of death, at Sevastopol, and there he made dying men laugh at his witty sayings. He surpassed every one by his prodigious activity in sport as well as literature."

Bicycle Wheel in Astronomy.

An interesting use has been found in astronomy for the bicycle wheel. By fitting such a wheel with a series of opaque screens placed at regular intervals and then rotating it with the aid of a small motor at the rate of from 30 to 50 turns in a minute before the cameras used to photograph meteors, one investigator has succeeded in measuring the velocity of the meteor's flight. The principle depends upon the interruptions produced by the screens in the trails of light made upon the photographic plates by the flying meteor. The velocity of the wheel is known at every instant by means of a chronographic record, and the length of the interruptions indicate the speed of the meteor.

Turkey's Plan for Undiluted Milk.

The sanitary inspector of Salonica, in Turkey, has adopted a plan for insuring to the public a supply of undiluted milk. He has ordered a supply of cans fitted with valves working in such a manner that a liquid may be poured out but not in. Another opening permits the cans to be filled with milk. The cans, when they are full, are taken to inspection depots, where their contents are chemically tested, after which this second opening is closed and stamped with an official seal. All dealers will be supplied with these cans and compelled to use them.

Superior Paper.

As illustrating the excellence of the paper (which is made from unused linen scraps) upon which Bank of England notes are printed, it is stated that when one of these notes is twisted into a rope it will sustain a weight of 358 pounds.

Sermon by the Deacon.

"Girls whose grandmothers used to get outdoors and boil a big iron kettle full of maple sirup or soft soap," says Deacon Palmer, "think they are doing something when they can roast a marshmallow in a chafing dish."—Atlanta Constitution.

Pomades and Hair Oils.

Some people have such dry hair that they are obliged to use pomades to prevent it from breaking off.

The use of liquid vaseline is highly recommended.

Inferior pomatums cause or hasten the loss of hair. Therefore, unless you can procure the very best from a well-known druggist, prepare them yourself.

The grease and the oils which are used, to be preserved from growing rancid, must go through a suitable process. Put in a brain-marie 200 grams of fat or marrow, with six grams of powdered benzoin and six grams of pulverized balm of tolu. Stir constantly with a wooden spatula. After two hours of hard boiling, strain through a bit of linen. Benzoic acid possesses the quality of preventing the fat to which it has been added from becoming rancid.

RESULTS POOR IN SIZZLER

Charleroi Team is Outpointed by Johnstown in Warm Battle

SECOND HALF SCREAMER

Before a handful of spectators that yelled themselves hoarse, rejoiced, coaxed, cajoled, threatened or did the opposite by turn, the Johnstown Central League leader beat the Charleroi basketball five by the score of 47 to 40 Monday night. As a game the affair figured as one of the best of the season, with speed to burn on both sides. Little Alton of Pittsburg and sorry of the fact, was the high muckamuck of the taffy pulling, and he was treated to a few gentle zephers in the way of advice from the side lines, but his kingship went on bossing the game with an impartial hand that added zest to the cage battle. Willis Keenan was the first individual to land a shot from the field. Captain Jack followed with a foul goal. Johnstown before the first half had ended had annexed nine field goals, and three foul goals.

Charleroi's best was three field goals and eight fouls. Dolin tallied the first field goal just as the watch ticked thirteen minutes of the first half.

Auspiciously the second period opened when Wileboy Keenan struck a pose and heaved a basket. Jacky Adams scored one from the foul line. Johnstown climbed to 33 without stopping to look around whereupon Captain Jack tallied another. From that time forward the game was a grand combination of passing, shoting, team work and burglary—burglary in the theft of the ball from one side to the other.

Jacky Adams proved much of the show for Charleroi, but had as chief assistants KeeKee Peiffer and Jimsey Brown. Everybody on the Johnstown side got field goals except Kinkaide and he didn't try for any. There were 14 scored for Charleroi and 21 for Johnstown this part of the engagement and the fouls were four to two. Lineup:

Charleroi—40		Johnstown—47
Adams	F	Newman
J. Brown	F	Fogarty
Dolin	C	Keenan
Peiffer	G	Mayhem
Herron	G	Kinkaide

Field goals—Adams 6, J Brown 4, Dolin 2, Pfeiffer 2, Newman 7, Fogarty 4, Keenan 7, Mayham 3. Foul goals—Adams, 12 out of 19, Fogarty 5 out of 7. Referee—Alton.

Buddhism and Animal Life.

It must be said of Buddhism that it has left one indelible mark all over India, China, and the east, and that is the teaching of gentleness and kindness to one another and to animals. Buddha taught that life is but a prolonged endeavor to escape from suffering, and that, therefore, to cause others to suffer is the unforgiveable sin.—Price Collier in Scribner's Magazine.

Among The Passers

Wohlfarth was sent to the bench to keep time. Asked why, Captain Fogarty said. "The other lineup works best here."

Captain Adams had his lip split by a collision in the first half that kept bothering him throughout the game.

Charleroi had just five men in uniform, Allie Brown's genial countenance being missed. He was unable to come from his home in Homestead because of illness.

Jimsey Brown and Kinkaide, former teammates of the Uniontown five mixed things up around the forward field, and not until the second half did Our Own succeed in getting away for keeps from the big blonde.

Bill Herron gave a sample of busting that would have done credit to a broncho buster, only Bill's was the team work busting kind.

Newman's first field goal shot on a dead run deserved credit.

Dolin's first goal was brought about by some of the prettiest team work ever. To begin with he hit the ball into the air from center. Catching it as it came down he did a little team work by dribbling. Six or a dozen Johnstown fellows tried the Reno act, got left, and finally his nibs aged 19, ended the play by placing the bulb in the netting, the ball never having left his control.

Peiffer shared with Captain Jack Adams the honors of the evening. His guard work was of the class A order and his two goals were glorious.

Captain Jack Adams played all around Mayham in the second half, slinging goals like some of the old orators slinging language.

Referee Alton laughed when kidded from the balcony for what over enthusiastic fans termed punk refereeing.

FORTY-FIVE YEARS OF WEDDED LIFE

Children and Grandchildren of Charleroi Couple Give Linen Shower

Surrounded by their children and grandchildren who live near home, and with letters of congratulations and remembrances from those who could not be present, Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Parsons Monday evening celebrated the forty-fifth aniversary of their marriage at their home at 329 Fallowfield avenue. The affair took the form of a linen shower and the bride of forty-five years ago received many beautiful pieces with which to re-stock her linen chest. A program of songs and recitations by the little folks and music by the older ones was enjoyed. Particular attention was given to the old songs for the pleasure of the "bride and groom." An elegant lunch was served.

Miss Estner Frye, daughter of A P. Frye, and B. L. Parsons were united in marriage February 26,1867. The ceremony was performed by the late Rev. L.P. Streator, in the First Christian church of Belle Vernon. In order that they might take a boat to make connections on their wedding trip to Wellsburg, W. Va., the wedding took place at 7 o'clock in the morning. The bride was popular in social circles along the valley. She met Mr. Parsons while she was visiting a friend in Pittsburg. He was at that time manager of the Knox nurseries at Knoxville. His home was in Wellsburg, W. Va.,

SURPRISE GIVEN CHARLEROI WOMAN

Mrs. E.Allison of 307 Oakland avenue was very agreeably surprised last evening when at 7:30 twenty of her woman friends arrived at her home to celebrate the 54th anniversary of her birth. A very pleasant evening was spent with music and social conversation. Mrs. Allison received many useful and ornamental presents of silver, cut glass, china and cut flowers. At 11 o'clock the room where Mrs. Allison's three guests were ushered into the dining daughters had prepared a bountiful lunch. At a late hour all departed for their homes, wishing Mrs. Allison many happy returns of the day.

FEENEY PROPERLY ENDORSED BY MINERS

Knowing that it is a party tenet of the Socialists never to endorse or receive political endorsements these delegates were not invited to participate in the caucus that endorsed Mr. Feeney. While nine of the delegates from Washington county may not be in accord with Mr Feeney politically, this does not signify that a great majority of the miners of the district do not desire Mr Feeney's renomination and election. Outside of individual members of the Socialist party Mr. Feeney has the general endorsement of the miners of Washington county.

LOCAL MENTION

Mrs. Jesse K. Johnston and Mrs. A. O. Davis are spneding the day in Pittsburg.

Miss Adele Heupel after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Heupel of Lincoln avenue returned to school at Beaver College this morning. She will give piano renditions on Friday evening in a concert to be given at Beaver.

P. Floyd Chalfant, city editor of the Mail, went to Pittsburg today to visit his cousin, Jay Reeves who is a patient at one of the hospitals there.

Heaven Here.

When I was away for my holiday, I went once to the side of a little highland loch on a calm day, when all the winds were still, and every birch tree stood unmoved, and every twig reflected on the steadfast mirror, into the depths of which heaven's own blue seemed to have found its way. That is what our hearts may be, if we let Christ put his guarding hand round them to keep the storms off, and have him within us for our rest. But the man who does not trust Jesus is like the troubled sea which cannot rest, but goes moaning around half the world, homeless and hungry, rolling and heaving, monotonous and yet changeful, salt and barren, the true emblem of every soul that has not listened to the merciful call: "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."—Doctor Maclaren.

To Purify Water.

To purify water sprinkle a tablespoonful of pulverized alum into a hogshead of water (the water to be stirred at the same time). It will after a few hours, by precipitating to the bottom the impure particles, so purify the water that it will be found to possess nearly all the freshness and clearness of spring water. A pailful containing four gallons may be purified by a teaspoonful of alum.—National Magazine.

Noble Ideal.

In the effort to appreciate various forms of greatness, let us not underestimate the value of a simply good life. Just to be good; to keep life pure from degrading elements, to make it constantly helpful in little ways to those who are touched by it to keep one's spirit always sweet, and avoid all manner of petty anger and irritability—that is an ideal as noble as it is difficult.

Babies Chew Tobacco.

Eskimo babies, it is alleged, are seldom weaned before the fourth or fifth year, but are taught to chew tobacco and to swallow the juice even as early as the ninth month. The customs—general with both sexes—of inhaling tobacco smoke and swallowing tobacco juice seem to be of no recent growth. No evil results of either practice seem to be apparent.—Medical Times.
